INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH IN FUNDAMENTAL SCIENCES.

Job Application for Front-End Web Developer

Institute for Research in Fundamental Sciences,

About Me _____

I'm a flexible learner and detail oriented individual with valuable experience in different fields such as Web Developing, Deep learning, Networking…

As a boy with team work character, I always work side by side with team in all companies at which I have worked.

I extremely enjoy new experiences and challenges. In other word I prefer to follow new challenges instead of routine works. The quote "Either try as hard as you wish or wish as hard as you try" has been always my motto.

By the way reputation for hand-working, creativity, problem solving and team working are the highlights of my character.

Cover Letter _____

While I was searching for a great position as a Front-End developer, I found out your institute is searching for someone who are qualified for Front-End developer.
